The SJGC High School Multimedia Workshop is a one-week, intensive, hands-on training designed to familiarize high school students with multimedia reporting. The best and brightest students from high schools in Florida, Georgia and surrounding states are selected to participate in this in-resident, tuition-free, weeklong training taught by veteran journalists and faculty. Students will be introduced to reporting for print, broadcast and the Internet through hands-on training using the state-of-the-art facilities at the School of Journalism & Graphic Communication.

Workshop Dates: June 23, 201
Application Deadline: May 2, 201

This year's theme is "The World Around Us: Environmental Changes.” Students will participate in fieldtrips, seminars and other educational activities geared toward the theme. They will produce media reports and an online newspaper/magazine.

Unique to this year’s Workshop, students will have an opportunity to write for the Survival Guide, an orientation magazine for new students, produced by the staff of The Famuan, the award-winning student newspaper.

Interested? Participants must be a high school junior or senior interested in media careers with a grade point average of 2.75 or better. Applicants should possess high academic averages and be proficient in English grammar. Participation in high school or local media will be a plus, although no prior experience is required.

Limited number of slots available

Application Materials:
1. Application
2. Essay: 200 words
3. High School transcript
4. Two letters of recommendation from teachers, media professionals or employers
5. Writing samples (any three of the following)
   a. Articles published in school newspaper
   b. Essays written for school, church or civic organization
   c. TV or radio scripts written for school or local media
   d. Research papers or reports
   e. Columns written in school newspaper or church/organization newsletter
6. Completion of the following documents:
   a. Equipment/Material Loss Agreement
   b. Photo Release Form
   c. Activities Release Form
   d. Medical Release Form

The Application may be submitted online via email. However, notarized documents must be mailed or hand delivered.

Participants will be responsible for their own transportation to and from the workshop. All meals and on-campus housing are covered. Students must be committed to participate for the entire program. The program begins on Sunday, June 23, with a Welcome Luncheon for the students and their parents/guardians and ends on Friday, June 28, with the Closing Luncheon/Awards Ceremony. Parents/guardians are invited to the Closing Luncheon/Awards Ceremony.

The Multimedia Workshop is provided by the School of Journalism & Graphic Communication at Florida A&M University and through a grant from the Dow Jones Newspaper Fund.

Complete the application online at http://sjgc.famu.edu.

Mail/deliver applications to:
Journalism Division Director
510 Orr Drive, Suite 4029
Tallahassee, FL 32307

Dow Jones Newspaper Fund Inc.